Three days training for TCI Domestic Insurance Professionals to take place in Providenciales

A three day seminar providing an in depth introduction to Insurance & Basic Underwriting Concepts is to take place in Providenciales from 23rd to 25th November 2015. This seminar, facilitated by The TCI Financial Services Commission in partnership with the Insurance Institute of Barbados will take twenty professionals from TCI Domestic Insurance Industry through three days of interactive training sessions.

As well as examining the fundamental concepts and techniques for dealing with risk, the seminar will give a complete overview of the workings of the domestic insurance industry and discuss latest industry trends.

Presenter and trainer for this workshop, Mrs Gina Welch, is a director of the Insurance Institute of Barbados. Mrs Welch has been tutoring Motor Insurance for the past 12 years in both the Barbados Diploma in Insurance (BDI) and Certificate of Proficiency (COP) programmes and tutors both divisions of the Property and Pecuniary courses of the BDI. She is trained in curriculum development and has written five of the textbooks currently being used by the Institute. Mrs Welch holds a BDI and BCI (Barbados Chartered insurer) designation and has completed extensive training in Anti-money laundering compliance both locally and in the UK.

Upon completion of this training, delegates new to the industry and seasonal professionals alike , will be able to apply the concepts learned through a series of hands-on case studies as well draw from the theoretical framework and practical advice provided.
